

Teri Harrison

Keepsake Gift Expert

"I give people ideas for gifts that celebrate milestones with meaning and memories."

For nearly 15 years, Teri has been busy designing and providing unique ways to preserve family memories, establish and maintain traditions, and support important relationships. Teri's inspiration has been her family. She was fortunate to be raised in a loving family and surrounded by many friends. Teri says what people really need is to feel appreciated.

Gift-giving occasions can cause a lot of stress. Holidays, births, birthdays, graduations, weddings, retirements are important landmarks for most people. Often, we buy the latest gadget or gizmo for the recipient. Teri's approach is different, she determines what would be most meaningful and lets her creativity go to work.

Teri is a wife, mother of four, author and business owner. She has written two books, The Grandparents' Little Idea Book, and The Grandparents' Memory Book: Did You Really Walk 5 Miles to School? Teri has also penned over 100 unique sentiments about families. Her first poem entitled, "Grandma's Heart," was the inspiration for many of the works that have followed.

Teri and her family reside in Alpharetta, Georgia, where she and her husband run the day-to-day operations of their gift company, The Grandparent Gift Co. Inc., which creates and sells Teri's writings in gift form including prints, cards, ornaments and more.

Teri's products can be found at Babies R Us, many Hallmark retailers, and small gift shops and boutiques across the country. She is a licensee for the Bradford Exchange for a doll called "Daddy's Hands." She has had numerous articles published in regional parenting magazines and is a gift idea resource for local schools and groups. Her "Daughter, Now That You're a Mother" greeting card was a Greeting Card Association finalist for the annual Louie Awards Mothers Day card category.

Teri grew up in St. Louis, Missouri and Columbus, Ohio. She graduated Summa Cum Laude from Miami University (OH).
